FUNSTON ORDERED EAST

Probaly on Consultation on Possible

Denver, March 7 .- Brigadier -General Frederick Funston, commanding the department of the Colorado, U. S. A. has received unexpected orders calling him to Washington for a conference with Assistant Secretary of War Sanger. No reason was given for the sudden summons. The general will leave today for Washington accompanied by his personal aide, Lieutenant Mitchell.

The orders caused a revolution is General Funston's arrangements. He was instructed to assume command of the department of the Columbia, embracing Washington, Oregon, Idaho and the whole of Alaska, succeeding General Randall, who sails for the Philippines on April 1. His orders were to reach Vancouver barracks, Washington, the department headquarters, not later than March 10, and he had arranged to leave Denver for the Pacide coast today. General Funston declined to discuss the new order, or to make any comment on the change in the arrangements. It is believed, however, that the war department has in view extensive plans for the handling of troops in Alaska, in connection with the impendinng difficulties over the Alaskan boundary question.

NO SIGNIFICANCE ATTACHED Washington, March 7 .- It was learned tonight that the coming visit of Gen eral Frederick Funston to Washington has no special significance. A number of questions have arisen in the department with respect to the alfotments of land belonging to the government reservation in Alaska to persons and varlous companies desiring to do business As Alaska is under the Jurisdiction of the department of Columbia. to which General Funston has been assigned, and General Funston in all likelthood will visit at Alaska during the coming season, it was deemed advisable to summen him to Washington for conference.

STOCK MARKET IN TROUBLE

Wiping Out of Surplus Reserves Threv Things Somewhat Out of

New York, March 6 .- The stock market was thrown into a condition of demoralization today by the disclosure of the fact that the surplus reserve of the #### clearing house banks was practically wiped out. Excluding government deposits this was $666,975 compared with $3,958,425 at this time last year, and $10,717,275 two years ago. January returns show that increased gross earn ings of railroads are generally almost wiped out by added expenses. The money situation has forced considerable liquidation in the stock market this week, and prices have made wide declines. Wall Street has rested strongly on the conviction that its money troubles were peculiar to itself, TOOK REFUGE IN OLD MILL and that the commercial position of the country as a whole is indisputable. #### ABOLISH THE GAME

Harvard Professor Says Annual Game With Yale Is Demoralizing to Students.

Boston, March 7 .- Professor Ira N. Tacoma, March 7.-A special to | Hollis, chairman of the Harvard Ath-• leading up to this point Professor Hol-♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ ♦ lis reviews at some length the general trend of college athletics, which he it. He thinks that one fatal thing for good sport is the suspicion which prevails between rival universities. Then, he says, referring to Harvard football the most demoralizing football game played by Harvard during the year is that with Yale. This has been true for many years with only an occasional lapse into a season of good fellowship. The students of the two uiversities are, in the main, friendly to one another, but this game seems to arouse their worst impulses. Suspicions are rife, bets are on and studies are practically suspended during the entire week preceding the game. The graduates, too, have their period of excitement and are in large measure responsible for the feverish strain in which the game is played. "On the whole it would be a good thing to have the game given up and the full schedule shortened by that much or another less strenuous game substituted. Certainly Harvard would profit by it, and our students would take the sport with other teams more In the spirit of fun."

Interviews with both graduates and undergraduates, who have the most to do with Harvard football, fail to show that Professor Hollis' idea of dropping Yale is endorsed.

FILE THEIR GRIEVANCES

Wabash Employes State the Cause of Their Grievances With the Company.

Old Schedule Is Violated and Other Wrongs Have Been Done Creating a System of Slavery.

St. Louis, March 7 .- John Hoskins chairman of the general committee Order of Railway Conductors, has made a statement detailing the grievances existing on the system of the Wabash, as follows: "The real grievance is not a case of wages. A violation of the old schedule is one of the causes of complaint. This is done by the company putting on preferred runs regular crews that got monthly salary. This cuts the brikeman's pay from 2 cents a mile to about 1 1-4 cents, conductors from 3 cents to 2 cents, while engineers and firemen receive the same for working on these runs as for any other freight train. But this is not the worst feature of the arrangement. After the company had these runs well established the managers commenced to pile on the abuses so fast that one could hardly believe the orders posted in the bulletin books.

"The first of these was that crews on Detroit and Chicago runs, after running 270 miles, switch out the merchandise and take it down town without additional pay. The next was 161 miles, each way, added to the St. Louis merchandise run, making 202 miles in the round trip additional with an increase of about $3 per month. This additional mileage alone would make a brakeman $60.60 per month, as it is a daily run, saying nothing of the 200 miles he had already made.

"The next was the Detroit and Chiago crews, after making 270 miles they would wait at Detroit until cars are received and take them down town be- gambling a felony. fore being relieved.

"But this is the straw that broke the camel's back: Not satisfied with Il this for nothing they put two en gines on and made them handle a dead freight irain outside of the high class, and they wonder what we are kicking about. After we work like slaves all winter, in all kinds of weather without rest, often for 60 hours at a stretch, we are told we have nothing to complain

"In the spring, when navigation opens up and business drops off, these preferred rews with the big engines can handle about half of the business and the rest of us can eat dried snowballs or wait until nice, cold, stormy weather comes around again, with its sleet and trial for desertion from Presidio, and ice on the running board on the top of the cars.

"The Adams Injunction even takes away the right to quit the company's service and if made permanent, they can hold men as bonded slaves. Now, I. for one, am an O. R. C. man and voted against the strike, but believe in upholding the B. R. T. and B. of L. to the last ditch.

"John Hoskins, 'Chairman General Committee, O.R.C.'

AGENT WAS DISHONEST

Allowed Valuable Property to Go for Taxes and Then Bought It In.

Denver, March 7.-The Bon Home Mining company of New Orleans, of which C. M. Saria is president, has field suit in the United States district court here against James Steinbeck to recover possession of certain mining claims said to be worth at least $500,000. Steinbeck, the complaint allegs, was the sole representative of ed with having allowed several of the company's most valuable claims to be sold for taxes and fraudulently securing to himself title thereto by purchasing the tax sale certificates.

> Glens Falls, N. Y., March 7 .- Ninteen are dead as the result of the capsizing of a boat used by workmen at Spice Falls, N. Y., about 10 miles west of Queens Ferry on the Hudson river. More than 1000 men are employed there at present in the construction of a power dam of the Hudson River Power company. The laborers and many of the masons are Italians who live in shantles on the north side of the river. The boat is a scow-shaped affair, 20 feet long and 13 feet wide, and is operated by a cable. This morning 70 or 80 men got aboard of the boat, leaving a big crowd on the bank waiting for the next trip. When a few feet from the shore water splashed against the rall, and a boy who had fallen overboard the previous day, seized one of the tackle ropes which ran from the overhead cabin to the stern of the boat. Some of the men started toward him and instantly the boat careened and filled.

The Hudson is swollen by the fresh rains and bore a score or more of the struggling men down stream. Many succeeded in catching hold of the boat, which had righted, and they clung there until pulled ashore.

One body has been found. The river for miles is being watched and dragged in the hopes of finding the bodies of the victims. There were but two or three English speaking men on board. The rolls of men were called tonight Olympia, March 7.-Governor Me- and everybody has been accounted for Bride today signed the bill making except 16, and it is certain that these were drowned.
